The science behind heat therapy

Heat is a natural, drug-free form of pain relief.

Heat helps relieve pain associated with muscle tension and stress.

Heat increases blood flow to the source of the pain to accelerate tissue healing.

Try moist heat for deep, penetrating relief.

A consumer research study showed that lack of mobility is the #1 reason for not using a heating pad more often*

Enhance your pain relief section with portable solutions for heat therapy

Stock Last-minute Gifts

Ongoing supply chain issues are predicted to cause shortages on popular gift items this year,¹ and USPS policy changes may cause delays in shipping times.²

Be a hero to your shoppers by stocking last-minute gifts. Here are some ideas:

- Locally-produced candles
- One-of-a-kind jewelry
- Hand-knit scarves and hats
- Photo frames
- “Vintage” toy favorites (toy soldiers, nesting dolls, wooden puzzles, etc.)
- Boutique lotions and bath bombs

Don't forget to stock wrapping paper, gift bags, and greeting cards to be a one-stop shop for your customers, especially those last-minute gift givers!

NATIONAL INFLUENZA VACCINATION WEEK

December 5-11

While fewer people tend to get vaccinated for influenza after November, it is not too late. Whether your store offers the flu vaccine or not, you can encourage those in your community to get vaccinated this December.

Visit the CDC website to find a digital toolkit which includes:

- Social media content
- Newsletter blurbs
- Patient reminder messages
- Template new releases
- Radio PSA audio files
- Printable flyers and posters
